

Sticky Notes can be used during reading to mark:

An interesting part

A prediction

An inference you have made to help understand the text

Your connections to the text- self, text, world, media

Words you need help with

A new fact

A part you don't understand

Thoughts you have about the text

Words or phrases you would like to use in your writing

Your favourite part

A question you have

A surprising part

A funny part

A theory you are building

Notes about something you would like to discuss

Be sure to write the page number on the note and stick it into your Reading Journal on a page with the title of the book and the date.